10. Comments: History is as much a subject to be read as to be seen. No student can have a complete understanding of history without visiting places of historical interest. Our students were very impressed to see the palaces in Tamluk and Digha. The teachers also considered themselves lucky and enriched after a successful completion of the said departmental visit, as the endeavour could kindle an interest to learn more of ancient history in the students. As the Head of the Department of History, I can unequivocally declare that the trip was highly successful, enlivening and enlightening.
